History of the Archdiocese of Washington

Catholicism was brought to Maryland in 1634 when Jesuit Father Andrew White celebrated the first Mass held in the English-speaking colonies, on the shores of St. Clement's Island. Founded as a haven for Catholics and religious toleration, Maryland was the site of the Religious Act of 1649, the first legislation a representative body ever enacted for religious freedom. Sadly, between 1690 and 1776 Catholics in Maryland suffered under oppressive penal laws, but they persevered and the Catholic faith flourished.

In 1789 Archbishop John Carroll, who was born in Upper Marlboro, was appointed the first bishop of the United States. That same year, Georgetown University, the nation's first Catholic college, was founded. The Archdiocese of Washington is also home to The Catholic University of America.

Originally part of the Archdiocese of Baltimore, the City of Washington was named a separate archdiocese by Pope Pius XII in 1939, under the direction of Baltimore Archbishop Michael J. Curley. Eight years later, Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle was named the first resident archbishop, and Calvert, Charles, Montgomery, Prince George's and St. Mary's Counties joined Washington as part of the new archdiocese. Archbishop O'Boyle immediately began his pioneering work to desegregate Catholic schools and parishes, build new churches and establish new social service ministries. He was elevated to cardinal in 1967 and retired in 1973.

His successor, Archbishop William Baum, was elevated to cardinal in 1976. While Archbishop of Washington, Cardinal Baum was joined by the faithful of the archdiocese in welcoming Pope John Paul II on his first papal visit to the United States in 1979. He was transferred to the Roman Curia in 1980, where he served until 2001.

James Hickey was appointed Archbishop of Washington in 1980 and elevated to the College of Cardinals in 1988. Under Cardinal Hickey's leadership, the archdiocese greatly expanded social service ministries, establishing programs such as Victory Housing, Birthing and Care and the Archdiocesan Health Care and Legal Networks. The archdiocese also grew in diversity, with Mass celebrated in over 20 languages, including Chinese, French, Korean, Polish, Portuguese, Spanish, and Vietnamese.

In November 2000, Cardinal Hickey retired. His successor, then-Newark Archbishop Theodore E. McCarrick, was installed in January 2001. Just six weeks later he was elevated to the College of Cardinals. Cardinal McCarrick emphasized vocations and ministry to diverse cultures, particularly the Hispanic community. He opened a new seminary for missionary priests of the archdiocese.

In May 2006 Pope Benedict XVI appointed then-Pittsburgh Bishop Donald W. Wuerl as Archbishop of Washington. He was installed on June 22, 2006. Known nationally for his catechetical and teaching ministry and for his efforts to strengthen Catholic education, he is active in the community, joining with civic and business leaders to promote education, service to the poor, pastoral assistance to refugees and immigrants, as well as interfaith understanding. He has made renewing sacramental life a priority, introducing a successful initiative on the Sacrament of Reconciliation, "The Light is On," that quickly became a model for other dioceses.

Archbishop Wuerl also hosted Pope Benedict XVI during his historic visit to Washington, D.C. in April 2008. Pope Benedict celebrated Mass for nearly 50,000 people from around the nation at Nationals

A. Who We Are

Park, visited the White House, met with the United States bishops and leaders of other faiths, and addressed Catholic educators.

Cardinal Donald Wuerl was among 24 new cardinals created on November 20, 2010 by Pope Benedict XVI at a consistory at Saint Peter's Basilica in Vatican City. He received San Pietro in Vincoli (Saint Peter in Chains) as his titular church.

In 2011, Cardinal Wuerl opened a seminary for the Archdiocese of Washington. Saint John Paul II Seminary serves as a college and pre-theology program for men in the archdiocese to be trained for service as diocesan priests. In 2013 Cardinal Wuerl participated in the conclave that elected Pope Francis.

The Archdiocese of Washington marked its 75th anniversary in 2014, with Cardinal Wuerl convoking the first Archdiocesan Synod. The statutes and recommendations produced through the Synod preparatory process and presented at the Synod were based on more than 15,000 suggestions collected from the faithful across the archdiocese. Anniversary celebrations also included a Mass on St. Clement's Island, as well as at the restored brick chapel in St. Mary's County that is recognized today as a symbol of religious freedom.

In September 2015 Cardinal Wuerl hosted Pope Francis during his apostolic visit to Washington. During his visit the Holy Father addressed a joint meeting of the U.S. Congress, prayed with the United States bishops at St. Matthew's Cathedral, celebrated Mass at the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception where he canonized Saint Junípero Serra, and met with clients of Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Washington.

Today, the Archdiocese of Washington is home to over 655,000 Catholics. Its 93 Catholic schools educate approximately 27,000 children while service agencies, including Catholic Charities and Victory Housing, have made the archdiocese one of the largest private social service providers in the region. Adult Catholics are finding new educational and spiritual resources to deepen their faith. Parish-based programs, opportunities for Eucharistic adoration, evangelization efforts, and small faith communities are filling their hunger to know Christ.

Although diverse in nationality, Catholics of the Archdiocese of Washington share a common faith and a commitment to reflect Christ in the world through prayer, education and service.

Secular Institutes

Secular institutes of Diocesan or Pontifical Right are a form of consecrated secular life whose single lay members and clerics profess the evangelical counsels and spread Gospel values according to a specific charism and spirituality, following formative phases. Members most often live alone while striving for holiness and the sanctification of the secular world, work in the "marketplace" and provide for their own living expenses, health insurance and retirement.

Saint John Paul II National Shrine

The Saint John Paul II National Shrine is a place of pilgrimage housing first-class relics of Saint John Paul II. Here, through liturgy and prayer, art, and cultural and religious formation, visitors can enter into its patron's deep love for God and for man.

From its conception, the Shrine was intended as a response to the call for a "new evangelization" by Saint John Paul II, Pope Benedict XVI and Pope Francis. It is meant to be a place of the genuine encounter with God that leads to a renewal of individuals, families, societies and cultures – a place where the God who "entered history" (John Paul II, Homily, Dec. 24, 1999) heals and renews every dimension of human life.

The Shrine was designated a national shrine on March 14, 2014 by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops.

United States Conference of Catholic Bishops

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB), the national membership organization of the U.S. hierarchy, is both an ecclesiastical body with defined juridical authority over the Church in the U.S. and a civil entity incorporated in the District of Columbia. It was set up with the approval of the Holy See, in line with the directives of the Second Vatican Council and later documents. Through the USCCB, the U.S. bishops act together, officially and with authority as pastors of the Church, on a wider scale for the good of the Church and society. The USCCB provides an organizational structure and resources needed to ensure coordination, cooperation and assistance in the public, educational and social concerns of the Church at the national and interdiocesan levels.

M. National Organizations

Personal Prelature

Personal Prelatures are governed by statutes sanctioned by the Holy See and consist of a Prelate who is the Ordinary of the Prelature, its own incardinated clergy and lay persons (not necessary in all Prelatures), who dedicate themselves by contract to the apostolic works of the Prelature. Unlike personal dioceses, which are autonomous with respect to the local Church, such as those constituted for the faithful of a particular rite, personal prelatures are based on the principle of insertion into the local Church with some particular pastoral service there.
